$25 Bond For Name, C.C. Award

PAHOKEE — A $25 government bond will be awarded to the local resident suggesting the best name for the Pahokee waterfront, including the new breakwater, Pahokee Chamber of Commerce directors decided Monday night.

There will be no restrictions on the number of entries which can be made by one person, and no age limit, the directors decided. Director and Mayor Lewis Friend said he would ask City Council to appoint a committee to meet with a Chamber committee to choose a name best describing the improved dock, age and waterfront facilities to be made with construction of the breakwater.

Deadline Oct. 31. Deadline for the contest will be Oct. 31. All entries are to be made to the Chamber office, P. O. Box 115, before midnight of that date. Secretary Mae Pope will keep the sealed suggestions until the committee meets to open them, President M. P. Stanley directed.

Response to the C-C's questionnaire of its members on their views on the proposed home mail delivery brought overwhelming favor for the new postal service, Mrs. Pope reported to the board. More than 100 members were for delivery, five against.

The directors asked James W. Vann and his industrial-agricultural committee to have economic and industrial data about the city prepared by the November meeting.

New directors will be installed and officers for the 1955-56 year will be elected at the annual directors' dinner Oct. 17, the place to be announced later. New directors elected include Mrs. Clark Wilkinson, Louis Gold, Olaf Boe, Jack Spencer, and C. A. Batchelor.

CAMERA REPORT: Air Ambulance, Big Steeple

PAHOKEE'S Everglades Memorial Hospital made its first patient transfer to a helicopter last Friday, when the Air Force picked up S/Sgt. Horace Pale, injured that morning when his car crashed into a tree on SR 700, to take him to the hospital at Palm Beach Air Force Base. Top picture shows the 'copier' landing. In lower photo, patient is being tucked into stretcher on flotation gear, will be protected by cover lying on ground at left. Police Chief Leon Guthrie, right, and M/Sgt. Arnold Heldt, right background, watch anxiously as transfer is made.

BELLE GLADE's skyline was enhanced by the addition of the spire and cross to the new Community Methodist Church. Picture at top shows Power Brothers Construction Co. crane with 110-ft boom placing the spire. Picture at left shows workmen awaiting the two-ton structure. Vernie Boels, chairman of the church building committee, said the spire is 91 feet long and the cross, of monel metal, is 5 1/2 feet tall, making the overall height of the church tower 100 feet. Belle Glade Machine Corp. framed the steeple, and a West Palm Beach firm put on the stainless steel exterior. Setting of the steeple completes the last big job in this portion of the building program, according to Boels.

BELLE-GLADE — Next Friday will be "Conference Day" in the Belle Glade schools, according to Principal F. O. Hobson. This is a new program in the county, and is in cooperation with a statewide plan to provide a classless day when parents may confer with the teachers and see the school facilities.

The teachers will all be in their classrooms all day Friday from 8 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. and parents are urged to ask to take this opportunity to discuss any problems with the teachers, and to get better acquainted with them.

Six-week tests will be given of next week, so the conference period will follow these, giving the teachers a maximum opportunity to evaluate the students' work prior to the conferences.

Teacher-Parent Meetings Set

PAHOKEE — Two special days for conferences between teachers and parents during this school year were announced this week by Principal Clyde Canipe.

The first will be Oct. 14, the second next Apr. 22. "Teacher-parent conference days have been used very successfully in many school systems in our country," Canipe said in a letter to parents, "and we are pleased that this year we will have the opportunity of having these two days to meet and talk with you, to learn more about your children and to plan together ways of helping them improve in their school situations."

To Be Asked For the conference the 14th, teachers have decided to ask some of the newcomers parents, others with whom the school has not yet been in touch this year, and parents to whom they wish to speak concerning particular children and their adjustment, Canipe said.

The principal outlined as conference objectives: to report progress to parents in ways that have real meaning and give satisfaction; to give the parent first-hand information about the child's children and growth; to give the parent and teacher the opportunity to know each other as persons, and to increase mutual confidence; to give the parents an understanding of the school environment and activities; to enable the teacher to learn more about the child, and to encourage the parent's participation in an evaluation of the child's total program.

Safety Program For PTA

BELLE-GLADE — The PTA of the Belle Glade schools will meet Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the high school auditorium. The program, on "Safety," will be under the chairmanship of W. A. Slauter, driver education instructor.

People Let Boys Down, Ex-Head Coach Says

BELLE GLADE — "I feel that the people in Belle Glade have more or less let their boys down — they don't pull for them. . . they expect too much of the boys and are not supporting those who are trying to do it," ex-Head Football Coach Calvin Peacock said yesterday following his resignation earlier this week.

Peacock, Golden Rams coach for four years, started out with high hopes this year of building a team which if not a winner, would gain experience needed to put out a better performance next year.

In the face of two defeats in two starts thus far this year, public criticism has mounted steadily, and Tuesday Peacock submitted his resignation to the Board of Public Instruction. He requested the board to let him assume the assistant coaching post of Hecate Middle School, now head coach, and remain as a high school mathematics teacher.

"I'm going to help the B team the best I can," Peacock said yesterday. He feels that, as the focal point of the criticism, it might "help the boys pick themselves up and take pride in their schoolwork and football," he said.

"The boys have the feeling that nobody is behind them," he said, and pointed out that team members have noticed the public's critical attitude "even when they are upturn."

As for himself, he said, he has gotten along well with the boys. He feels, however, that parents have been blaming the coaching and fans have been criticizing the players instead of giving sportsmanlike moral support and encouragement necessary to any young team.

Analyzing the team failures at the hands of Ft. Myers and Clewiston, Peacock said he felt at the end of last season he would have a good team.

However, Glen Caraway moved with his family to Clewiston. The team was built around him because of his three years' experience, Peacock said. Next Earl Armstrong went out with a knee injury, then Billy Jackson with a bad ankle, and the team's list of losses began to mount. "We have potentially a good line, but no ends," mused the coach.

"I'm out to teach good sportsmanship and how to get along in life," Peacock said.

Evening Classes Being Offered

The Palm Beach County Vocational School, in cooperation with Frank O. Hobson, principal of Belle Glade high school, is planning to offer evening instruction in typing, bookkeeping and shorthand, according to Kenneth F. Johnson, director of vocational education for the county.

These courses are tentatively scheduled to start in October. So that classes may be set up according to the demands of the community, it is requested that those persons interested in this instruction call the school, phone 2938, and give name, address, and the preferred course of instruction. Only those classes with a minimum of 20 advanced registrations will be offered.

This instruction is part of the school board's vocational education program and is for adults 16 years of age or over who are not regularly enrolled in high school, Johnson said. No tuition fee will be charged for these courses; however, there is a small registration fee. Starting dates will be announced later.

MORE ABOUT HELICOPTER SCHOOL: Sometimes a little story can cause a big flurry. And we just had one. Week by week we told how the Army had shelved the idea of a helicopter school in Georgia or Florida because of the weather. Right after our story appeared, it was taken off the shelf and opened again—wide open.

Here is the latest on it. The Army had decided to kill the whole idea because of money, but had not told anyone about the decision. When word reached members of the House from Georgia and Florida, they went directly to the Department of Defense—and the heat was put on the Army. The long distance phones became busy, and the resultant pressure opened the project wider than ever before. Prior to this time, the Army was planning to select the site for the school, then give the training contract to a civilian bidder. The Army had worked down three sites: Deland, Lakeland, Florida, and Douglas, Ga. Now, the successful bidder will be allowed to select his own site—provided it is within 500 miles of Camp Rucker.

WHO WILL IT BE? Curious members of the Florida colony in Washington are asking "Who will take Ralph Davis' place as administrative assistant to Senator Holland?" To date, no news on this one. Davis, who held the top spot in Holland's office since 1949 left the first of the month to return to his home in Tallahassee where he will become executive director of the State Road Department, a new top administrative job created by the State Legislature.

FAME-RUNNING OVER: Georgia's Elder Statesman, Walter F. George, is recognized as one of the outstanding leaders in the United States and the father of the present world wide move toward peace. He also is the center of what might be called the hottest political fight in Georgia in the past 30 years. Sabre rattling on the part of "Humman" Talmadge has stirred the Senator's friends to extreme action. Newspapers all over the state are calling the faithful to rally. This activity has even run over the edges of Georgia and spread to Florida, where the Tampa Times recently ran a strong editorial in support of Senator George. We don't know how many Georgia people read the Tampa Times, but it was a worthy effort to say the least.

SO. BAY STUDENT COUNCIL TO PAY FOR PA SYSTEM

SOUTH BAY — The Student Council held its first meeting last week with Ronnie Bowen presiding under direction of Steve Tsalickis, faculty representative, and voted to defray the cost of the public address system to the school.

Jimmie Lou Summerlin, Charles Wilson and Gene Crichtfield were appointed to act as judges in the contest to select six cheerleaders, two each from the seventh and eighth grades, and from the sixth grade, and one from Lake Harbor. A contest was also planned to select a name for the South Bay football team. Plans were made to operate a refreshment booth during the football season.

TOMATO MARKETING ORDER STARTS SAT.

A federal marketing order authorizing the regulation of tomatoes grown in the State of Florida south of the Suwannee River has been issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, according to the marketing agreement and the order will become effective tomorrow.

The program is based on evidence received at a public hearing held at West Palm Beach Mar. 7-10, 1955. The program was submitted to growers for approval or disapproval in a referendum held throughout the production area. Of the growers voting, 58 percent by number and 92 percent by volume of production favored issuance of the marketing order. Approximately 85 percent of the production was voted in the referendum. Persons who handled more than half of last season's shipments have named the marketing agreement.

GAS SALES IN AUGUST TOP ALL-TIME MARK

Sales of gasoline in Florida for the month of August totaled 100,513,376 gallons, the first time that sales in a summer month have exceeded a hundred million gallons. The total for August of this year is over 13 million gallons greater than last August, and over two million more than this July. This is unusual, because in the past July has been a bigger month than August, State Comptroller Ray E. Green said.

The seven cent per gallon tax collected by Florida dealers on August sales of gasoline, and remitted to the comptroller in September, amounted to $7,007,892.31. This is almost a million dollars more than was realized from the same source in September of 1954.

$130,000 WORTH OF HANGERS AT LANTANA

A financing plan to raise $130,000 to build two new hangers at Lantana Airport was approved by the County Commission this week.

The plan provides for issuing revenue certificates to finance the construction work and to pay off the issue on rental from the new hanger space. The county now has under construction a proposal from Florida Aeromotive, Inc., offering to pay an annual rental of $12,000 for airport space, plus a two percent return on every gallon of gasoline sold from the new installation. The commission voted to call the bids on the bonds and to also call for bids on leasing the new facilities.

Stanley Chevrolet Asks YOU

WHO PAYS FOR THEM ?

BUYING A CAR is a serious investment—be sure you aren't tricked into a deal which is false economy. Spend your money where you make it.

WHENEVER PAYROLLS are taken into consideration, it is a normal tendency to think in terms of manufacturing. Too often we are prone to overlook—and certainly underestimate—the smokeless industries which contribute so substantially to the economy of Pahokee. We refer to the doctor, the baker, the retailer, the attorney, the shoe repairman and others, which collectively, make up the bulk of our community income.

CONSIDER, for example, the automobile dealers of Pahokee. These dealers are among our most civic-minded and progressive businesses. Together they employ many people who earn thousands of dollars a year. These employees, by choice and business logic, are loyal to Pahokee merchants, professional and service institutions. Most own their own homes, they work on civic drives with the many civic clubs and organizations and help develop our churches and schools.

THE AUTOMOBILE DEALERS have BIG investments in their shops with equipment, tools and parts to be at your constant service. The taxes they pay—on both business and home—play a very important part in keeping your taxes equitable. Their contributions aid in keeping solvent many other organizations, institutions and local promotions.

WHAT PARTICIPATION, financial or otherwise, do you receive in Pahokee from the automobile dealer outside the city? What is his interest in you as a customer other than a means to swell volume? Does he want to service your car after he has sold it? True, one of the joys of earning a living is spending the fruits of your labor where and when you please. For the most part there are no strings attached to the income at your disposal. Only common sense governs expenditures.

OF LATE—and gaining in frequency—temptations are placed in the path of common sense. These temptations are in the form of "COME ONS" of huge savings. After careful analysis, these huge savings turn out to be false economy.

SUCH IS THE CASE, we feel, with the fallaciously labeled "Tremendous Deals" offered by metropolitan dealers. It's truly unfortunate, but a good many people from Pahokee have fallen prey to the city boys' glib offers of gigantic savings, no down payments, free trips and other such gimmicks.

IN THE FINAL SHOWDOWN these people have learned to their dismay that they have actually lost money on their tremendous deals. Stanley Chevrolet is in business today—and will be in the years ahead—because it offers the best products available and because it stands solidly behind the cars it sells. If Stanley Chevrolet can't make the deal we want to see other Pahokee dealers make it. The automotive industry in Pahokee has a big investment in Pahokee, and it has a genuine interest in you, the customer.

Continue to do your automobile business outside the city and eventually you will be busy scratching your head, looking for ways to replace a very large payroll—a payroll that has helped build schools, pave streets, erect churches, hospitals and contribute in so many other ways to the welfare of our community.

WE AREN'T ADVOCATING a walled city but we are calling to your attention that the Pahokee Dealers are an important part in the pattern of growth and progress of Pahokee.

DON'T BE MISLED—every auto dealer must pay the manufacturer the same price for each unit he sells and each dealer must take a profit to stay in business. SOMEONE has to pay for all the gimmicks—take a GOOD LOOK—IS IT YOU? See us first and learn the facts—if we can't make a deal, try another Pahokee Dealer—but spend your money where you make it—in PAHOKEE.

GLADES CHURCH News

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, Belle Glade CHRISTIAN SCIENCE GROUP, Canal Point

How spiritual understanding of divine law brings freedom from discord of every kind will be explained at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson Sermon "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the Golden Text from Romans (8:2): "The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death."

The importance of coping with sin is emphasized in selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the Lesson (315:16): "The likeness of God we lose sight of through sin, which beclouds the spiritual sense of Truth; and we realize this likeness only when we subdue sin and prove man's heritage, the liberty of the sons of God."

Readings from the Old and New Testaments of the Bible will include Christ Jesus' parable of the prodigal son (Luke 15).

REV. MR. PETRIE BACK FROM AVON

Rev. John Clarence Petrie has returned from the clergy conference held this week at Camp Wingmann, Episcopal institution at Avon Park. Each day of the conference began with the recitation of morning office, followed by mass and Holy Communion. Several sessions were held during the day at which a lecture was followed by a discussion as the best way to help expand the work of the church. Evensong was said before supper, and the day closed after the night lecture with the recitation of complete.

The first fall meeting of the clericus of the Palm Beach deanery of the Episcopal church will be next Monday at St. Mary's Church, Stuart, where Rev. G. P. Huntington is rector. The assistant at Holy Trinity Church, West Palm Beach will discuss the proposed changes in services of baptism and confirmation in the Book of Common Prayer.

The Episcopal men of this deanery will have their fall meeting on Tuesday at St. Paul's Church in Delray Beach. Following dinner there will be an address by Rev. Connally of Tampa, slides of the recent general convention at Honolulu will be shown.

Whitlock; the "To Talk About" program on "Reaching People for Christ" was given by Mrs. Irvin Zumpf; and the Bible study on "Salvation for all Peoples" was given by Mrs. Robert Rodman.

Circle 1 met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. R. S. Cox with eight members present. Mrs. David Motes gave the devotional on "The Path of Service"; the "To Talk About" program was given by Mrs. Helen Motes on "Reaching People for Christ"; and the Bible study on "Salvation for all Peoples" was given by Mrs. M. BAPTIST PASTORIUM WORK IS CONTRACTED

First Baptist Church of Pahokee, in business session Wednesday evening, voted to let the contract for the new pastorium to Pahokee Builders, Inc. The home will be built in the new Pahokee Gardens subdivision.

It has an appraisal of $22,125, will be of CBS with terrazzo flooring and marble chip roofing. The plan provides for three bedrooms, a bath and a half bath, living and dining rooms, kitchen, utility, carport, and a glassed-in porch.

H. L. Speer is chairman of the committee that brought the report and worked out all arrangements necessary to get the work underway. Serving with him on the pastorium committee are Mrs. Claude Shirley, Mrs. O. Powell, and James Harry Wilkinson, Jr. Construction will begin immediately and will be completed in four months.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker have returned from Hendersonville, N.C. where he was engaged in summer harvest of vegetables, and have joined their son Robbie and his grandfather W. P. Walker who preceded them by several weeks.

HEALTH HORIZONS

Atomic Energy to Save Lives

Atomic energy is being used to save lives. At Kalamazoo, Mich., vaccines and other drugs which cannot be sterilized by heat without losing their potency, pass on a belt beneath a huge "atom smasher." Electron particles at the speed of 176,000 miles per second strike the containers, penetrating the contents and destroying germs within. The drugs remain unharmed.

Horrorizing in its ability to kill man, in this case atomic energy annihilates man's great enemies, disease bearing virus and bacteria.

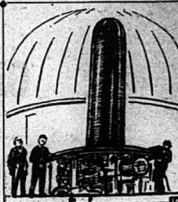

For the first time, pharmaceutical companies have at hand a simple, quick method of guaranteeing that a substance injected into the human body to cure one ailment will not — due to foreign virus or bacteria — cause another health problem.

In the past, sterilization was accomplished in one of three ways: (1) by heat; (2) by filtration; and (3) by the addition of chemicals. Bottles, vials or ampules, also had to be sterilized separately with the constant hazard of contamination before filling and sealing could take place.

Importance of Atom Smasher

An example of the importance of the "atom smasher" is its use in sterilizing heparin, the life-saving anticoagulant, which prevents blood clots. Because heparin loses its activity when subjected to heat it had to be sterilized by stages, which took from 48 to 96 hours. The atom smasher does the job in a fraction of a second.

The first atom smasher for use in the field of medicine, properly known as an electron accelerator, has been installed by The Upjohn Company at Kalamazoo.

The machine, invented by Robert Van De Graaf of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, requires two million volts of electricity. Its principle is not unlike that of the electron gun in a television tube.

The process can be compared to the firing of millions of little bullets through a gun, with the power being supplied by electricity rather than gunpowder.

Since the radiation can be dangerous in large doses, the equipment is installed in a special room with walls several feet thick. The muzzle of the accelerator, which emits the electrons, is actually aimed, is enclosed in five tons of specially made steel bricks designed to absorb any stray radiation.

Friendship Class Meets

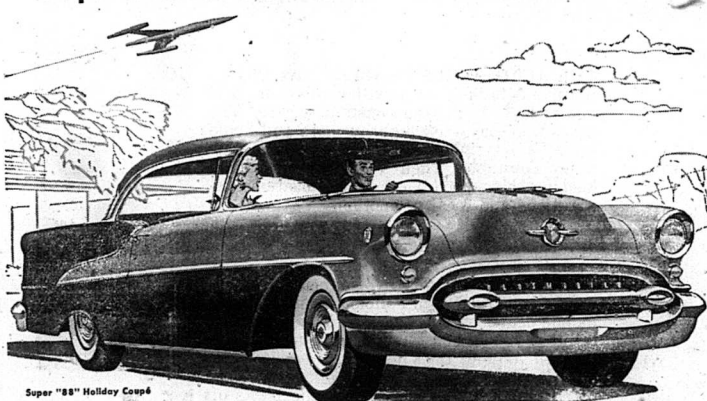

The Friendship class of Belle Glade Community Methodist Church Sunday School held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Hender with Mrs. W. P. Hill, Jr. as co-hostess. Twenty members enjoyed pot-luck supper, followed by a brief business session presided over by class president Tommy Lanier, and later by a social hour. Committees for the coming year were appointed. New members of the class present Tuesday included Dr. and Mrs. M. J. Lave, formerly of Pahokee Francis Harris; Hiram Clark; Ray Roth; and Dr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Chapman.

During the September cone collection period, the Florida Forest Service sought to procure enough cones to yield a two-year supply of seed. The FFS hoped to lay in 1957's seed this fall, because next year's cone crop which ordinarily would supply them, is expected to be very light. Frost damage to blossoms last March is blamed for the expected failure.

Here's a farm pond that provides both recreation and fire protection.

Utah Farm Has Novel Pond

Looks Like Resort Swimming Pool, But It Protects Against Fire Too

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Farm business is growing into big business. And, as agriculture grows so does its manpower problems. The stock phrase—"down on the farm" is assuming new significance in many cases, because it often means just that—"down" and not "up" on the farm.

Thus, employee relations—the job of keeping employees happy and proud that they are farm workers—becomes more and more important. And, that goes for farm youngsters as well. City jobs appeal strongly to those who do not feel that agriculture is an industry in which they would like to spend a life time.

Even a simple—and practical—thing like a pond can be turned to good account in a farmer's battle for efficient workmen and "stay-at-home" boys and girls. A Utah farm family discovered this fact when they converted a typical pond into a swimming pool—country club style.

Complete with bath house, spring board, striped umbrellas and picnic tables, the pool looks for all the world like the center of an expensive resort. Then, the visitor spots a big dairy barn in the background and comes back to earth—the good earth of a "big business" farm. Employees use the pool whenever convenient, and so do the neighbors, and family.

The pool, of course, offers more than recreation. It is the farm's ever-ready reservoir if fire should strike. Ponds also have other uses, not the least of which is supplying water for irrigation systems. The size and use made of them depends on a farmer's ideas and ingenuity. They may be large or small; elaborate or not, as desired. But they can be more than just a hole in the ground for water with a little advance planning.

PORT VOTE IS APPROVED

The county commission this week approved plans for calling a referendum election on three questions involving the Port of Palm Beach, including giving the Glades a voice, and took no action on a request to test the question in court.

A legislative act, sponsored by the Town of Riviera Beach and other interests, call for a referendum vote on:

1. Shall operation of the port be turned over to the County Commission.

2. Shall two additional port commissioners be named from the Everglades section, increasing the port board to five members.

3. Shall operation of the port continue on the present basis. Port commissioners last week, asked the county board to take the special legislative act into consideration to test the validity of the measure. County Attorney Harry Johnston Monday advised the commission that it was without authority to make a test case out of the act and that the legislative measure required the commission to call and hold a referendum election.

VAL GABALDON FIRST CAP CADET TO TEST

PAHOKEE — Val Gabaldon, 16, became the first of the Glades Civil Air Patrol cadets to take his private pilot's written examination, last week at Palm Beach International Airport.

Dorothy Irvin, of Belle Glade, who will be 17 in April is scheduled next in readiness for her written test, according to Instructor G. Gabaldon.

Combined Meet On Swim Pool

BELLE GLADE — At a combined meeting Tuesday, the swimming pool committee, the City Commission, and two members of the recreation committee continued discussion of and planned for the pool.

Eugene Ellis, chairman, presided. Miss Sara Creech reported on studies her committee had made of various designs and plans for swimming pools. She also commented on the experience of the community of Pompano Beach who found it necessary to employ a full time recreational director, one of whose duties is administration of the pool. She advised that this community consider the possibility of requiring such a full time employee, and that the community consider various phases of the operation and supervision of a swimming pool after such a pool is constructed.

Going Up

Mrs. Edwina Young, committee secretary, reported that $10,800 has been collected to date on the fund raising drive, and that there is another $29,100 in pledges. In addition to these amounts, the city has on deposit a little over $14,000.

With Joe Frieheim and Curtis Thompson of the recreation commission, a total of 22 persons were present. They decided to outline at the next meeting the duties and limits of authority of the recreation commission and to take under advisement the appointment of a sub-committee to function under the supervision of the recreation commission on problems relating to the swimming pool. The committee will recommend a site for the pool by the Housing Authority, since this information is essential to having an engineer draw up plans and make cost estimates.
